NEW UNDERGRADUATE ON-LINE COURSE!

SPRING 2006

1173-274-01
Introduction to Aging Studies
and
Special Problems of the Black Elderly
(3 credits)

Explore the current perspectives on scientific and social issues related to aging. Examine the biological, psychological, sociological, historical, and economic factors that influence the aging process. Special attention will be given to the needs and problems of the Black elderly. Participate in key projects related to the elderly.

Requirement: Students must have knowledge of MS Word.

CLASS WILL MEET FOR THE FIRST TWO SESSIONS FOR ORIENTATION

STUDENTS FROM ALL MAJORS WELCOMED!

For more information contact: Dr. Janet Burton, LICSW
Social Work Program
(202) 274-5719