Position: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor

Salary Range: Rank and Salary Commensurate with Qualifications

Location: Van Ness Campus

Date: 05-04-05

Number: 05-25

Closing Date: Open Until Filled

Responsible to: Associate Dean
David A. Clarke School of Law
Provost and Vice President, Academic Affairs

Brief Description of Duties

Teaches assigned classes in an effective and scholarly manner.

Maintains accessibility to students outside the classroom, assists in the students’ academic work by supervising directed academic work, and serves as a faculty advisor on independent legal research.

Contributes toward the growth and understanding of the law by undertaking academic research and publication; field, empirical and advocacy research, together with interpretation analysis, and application of the data and materials developed, or constructive change in the law by legislative, judicial, or executive-administrative means.

Participates in the various law school activities necessary to the successful functioning and harmony of the institution including: faculty meetings, committees, conferences, continuing education projects, recruiting efforts, and other similar activities.

Qualifications Required

An earned Juris Doctor Degree and be a member in good standing of the Bar of the District of Columbia or other state, and:

Professor: Five years of full-time teaching in an accredited law school. Demonstrated superior teaching competence; significant and substantial contribution to legal scholarship; and continuing professional attainment.

(see reverse side)
Associate Professor: Three years of full-time teaching in an accredited law school. Demonstrated teaching competence; record of scholarship and professional growth; and continuing professional attainment.

Assistant Professor: Member in good standing or be in the process of becoming a member of a Bar. Potential teaching excellence and demonstrated professional competence.

All candidates will be considered without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, martial status, personal appearance, sexual orientation, familial status, family responsibilities, matriculation, political affiliation, disability, source of income, place of residence or business.

The Residency Preference Amendment Act of 1988, D.C. Law 7-203, created a system which provides that any applicant for employment in the Career or Educational Services who is a bona fide resident of the District of Columbia may claim a residency preference at the time of application. An applicant selected for appointment based on District residency will be required to submit proof of bona fide District residency. Bona fide District residency must be maintained from the date of appointment to the position for five consecutive years.

This position is not in the collective bargaining unit.

Please submit résumé to:

Ms. Isabelle McMillian
University to the District of Columbia
Office of Human Resources
Building 38, Suite 301-12
4200 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20008