Welcome to New Student Orientation

Greetings New Firebird!!

I would like to welcome you to New Student Orientation at the University of the District of Columbia (UDC)! The primary goal of orientation is to provide you with a wealth of information and the tools you need that will ensure a positive transition to college life at UDC.

You will connect with current students, faculty, staff, and other cultural/social resources that we hope will contribute to your academic success.

When you attend Orientation, you will:
  • Learn information about key offices and staff members
  • Discover information about student life and services
  • Tour the campus

Your Firebird family looks forward to becoming a part of your success.

Best Regards,

Sharleeta A. Dunlap
