Big Band Festival at University of the District of Columbia Pays Tribute to Local Jazz and Education Icon

Washington, D.C. – Celebrate Jazz Appreciation Month at the CALVIN JONES University BIG BAND Jazz Festival, renamed in memory of the great Calvin Jones, director of the university's Jazz Studies Program and a legendary figure in the Washington, D.C., community who passed away suddenly October 10, 2004.

On Monday, April 25, 2005, at 8:00 P.M., the big band sound returns to the Van Ness campus for the nineteenth year as the powerhouse jazz ensembles of the University of the District of Columbia (directed by Allyn Johnson), Howard University (directed by Fred Irby III), and the University of Maryland (directed by Chris Vadala) offer a special tribute to Calvin Jones. Produced by UDC's Jazz Studies Program and the Felix E. Grant Jazz Archives, the festival began in 1987 as part of a citywide tribute to Duke Ellington, and it remains one of the most anticipated events on Washington, D.C.'s jazz calendar.

Tickets for the big band concert can be purchased in advance at the Department of Mass Media, Visual & Performing Arts, Building 46 West, University of the District of Columbia Van Ness Campus, 4200 Connecticut Avenue, NW. Tickets are $15 for all seats and will also be available at the University Auditorium door on the night of the performance. The University Auditorium (Bldg. 46 East) is conveniently located on Metro's Red Line at the Van Ness-UDC stop.
